

This exercise is intended to get you comfortable with searching for articles in within the Library Database.

This process is designed so even the novice researcher feels comfortable searching for the appropriate sources to write scholarly of papers in any subject.

You will want to write down, print, or take a screen shot of the following steps:

1. Enter the University Library using the navigation link.
2. Type "PERSUASION" in the search field and click SEARCH (note the number of results)
3. Limit your search to SCHOLARLY PEER REVIEWED JOURNALS, with FULL TEXT ONLINE
4. Limit your search to articles published between 2012 and 2015 (note the number of results)
5. Limit again selecting the subject COMMUNICATION. How many final results do you have?

Post a summary of this process in the discussion room -

- Was this easier or more difficult than you imagined a library search to be?
- How much have you the library database in the past?
- How will this impact your motivation to use the online Library Database in the future vs. other options such as Google Scholar?